

INDIANA COUNCIL of ADMINISTRATORS of SPECIAL EDUCATION

PRESENTS:

ED Tech Ways to Differentiate in a Student-Centered Classroom

When moving from direct instruction to a more student-centered classroom, care and consideration must be taken to reach all learners. Through differentiated instruction, educators rely on several different methods and techniques to ensure students are successful. Differentiation of content, interest, process and demonstration can all serve to increase engagement and challenge students at their level. Effective technology integration provides additional support to a differentiated classroom. Join us as we examine the differentiation processes and how technology fits in the differentiated classroom. You will walk away with a ready-made, technology-infused differentiated toolkit and strategies to implement differentiation in any classroom.

Presenter: Steven Anderson

He is a Dad, learning evangelist, educator, speaker, and author.

As a former classroom teacher and Director of Instructional Technology Steven is highly sought after for his expertise in educational technology integration and using social media for learning. As @web2oclassroom he regularly travels the country talking to schools and districts about the use of Social Media in the classroom and how they can better serve students through technology.

Steven has been a presenter and keynoter at several national and international educational conferences, including ISTE, ASCD, FETC, WISE, VSTE as well as numerous state and local conferences.

Steven is the author of 3 books: The Relevant Educator: How Connectedness Empowers Learning, co-authored with his good friend and social media maven, Tom Whitby, The Tech-Savvy Administrator, part of the ASCD Arias series, and Content Curation: How To Avoid Information Overload, part of the Corwin Connected Educators Series.

He is also responsible in helping create #edchat, a weekly education discussion on Twitter that boasts over 500 weekly participants.

Steven has been recognized with the the 2009 and 2011 Edublogs, Twitterer of The Year Award, a "Top 50 Educational Innovators" award from the Center For Digital Education, a Microsoft Heros of Education award, along with a 2013 Bammy Award, recognized worldwide as the Educational Emmy, for his work with #edchat.

Date:

Wednesday, February
14, 2018

Location:

Sheraton: Keystone @
the Crossing
Indianapolis, IN

Time:

10:00am-4:00pm
(Lunch Included)

Cost:

$125 per person

To Register:

<http://icase.org>